Before Alibaba stock forecast, let us have a look at the company's business model and financial details.

Introduction of Alibaba Company

Alibaba company was founded by Jack Ma and Chung Tsai on 28 June, 1999 and is headquartered in Hangzhou, China.

Alibaba Group Holding Limited is a Chinese multinational technology company that focuses on retail, e-commerce, technology, and the internet. Though it was founded as a web based retail company, Alibaba has diversified widely. The company operates chains of businesses in different sectors and is recognized as one of the world's largest retailers and e-commerce companies.

Alibaba is often regarded as the Amazon of China because of the similarity in operation. Just like Amazon, the company has evolved from a web based retailer into a big tech company with interests in e-commerce, artificial intelligence, cloud computing, retail, entertainment, films, mobile media, TV shows, and more.

Of course, the company has several subsidiaries, including Alibaba Cloud, AliExpress, AloOS, AliGenie, Tmall, Taobao, Lazada and more.

There has been tremendous growth in the revenue of Alibaba's company year after year. Five years ago, the total revenue of the companies was around $40 billion, which has now increased to $126 billion.

Latest Baba Stock News

- Alibaba announced that it would be investing $10 billion in Southeast Asia over the next five years. The investment will be used to expand Alibaba's e-commerce and cloud computing businesses in the region.

BABA Stock Forecast: 2023 Q1 Result

Alibaba recorded 10% revenue growth in the 3rd quarter. It is the slowest quarterly year-on-year growth rate for the company since its 2014 U.S. listing.

- Revenue: Alibaba's revenue for the first quarter of 2023 was 187.2 billion yuan ($28.1 billion), up 9.7% year-over-year.
- Net income: Alibaba's net income for the first quarter of 2023 was 44.1 billion yuan ($6.7 billion), down 20.4% year-over-year.
- Earnings per share: Alibaba's earnings per share for the first quarter of 2023 were 7.94 yuan ($1.15), down 24.4% year-over-year.
- Guidance: Alibaba's guidance for the second quarter of 2023 is for revenue of 204-210 billion yuan ($30.8-31.6 billion) and net income of 40-43 billion yuan ($6.3-6.6 billion).

The results were mixed, with revenue growth slowing but net income falling more sharply. The slowdown in revenue growth was largely due to the regulatory crackdown in China, which has weighed on Alibaba's e-commerce business. The decline in net income was due to a number of factors, including higher costs and lower profits from Alibaba's cloud computing business. The revenue growth slowdown was a concern, but the company's management remains confident in its long-term growth prospects. Investors will need to watch closely how Alibaba's business is affected by the regulatory environment in China in the coming quarters.
